Why go tiny?

- Affordable - making housing accessible for anyone
- Versatile - custom built to fit your needs
- Sustainable - smaller home equals smaller impact (and way less stuff)

1. What barriers do we still face in order to get more tiny homes in the market?

Our three biggest barriers are financing, zoning, and insurance.

We've solved financing, and now offer it in house but it's not as good as regular home financing. Zoning is still an issue - where do people put them?

Insurance is hard, because the market doesn't know what a tiny home is. Is it a trailer? Is it a house? It's neither! As this becomes more mainstream, other insurers will get on board.

2. What is your favourite aspect of this project?

"This is a great way to help the most people possible, to have the biggest impact, with the skills that I possess."
