

The Time is NOW

GIVE TODAY FOR A GREENER TOMORROW

Burlington
Green

THE TIME IS NOW.

BurlingtonGreen is in the final year of a three-year fundraising campaign to protect and care for local nature and to combat climate change.

There has never been more urgency for action than right now. We need a stable climate and clean air and water for our survival, for the wildlife we share our home with, and for generations yet to come.

As urgency grows for environmental action in Burlington, the community is turning to BurlingtonGreen for leadership and solutions. The scope and scale of our vital work has grown significantly since BurlingtonGreen's founding over 17 years ago, and without sustained funding support, we are not able to provide the essential programming and services that the environment needs, and that the community has come to rely on.

With YOUR help, we will further grow community awareness on priority environmental issues, we'll amplify your voice for stronger government action, and we will accelerate actions that collectively contribute to a healthier, more resilient environment, now and for the future. Every dollar received will be invested to work right here in Burlington - a special place that we all value and love.
